Opening Remarks
Mark Mullinix, Chief Operating Officer, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond

Mark Mullinix was appointed first vice president and chief operating officer at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond in June 2013. During 2017, Mullinix also served as the Richmond Fed’s interim president, chief executive officer and FOMC representative. He has previously held senior management roles in the San Francisco and Kansas City Federal Reserve Banks. Throughout his time in the Federal Reserve, he has been actively engaged in community service. Mullinix served eight years as a Marine Corps infantry commander. He continued to serve in the Marine Corps Reserve and retired at the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Investing in America’s Workforce

Jeanne Milliken Bonds, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond
Daniel Davis, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis
Tony Davis, Federal Reserve Bank of New York
Jason Keller, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago

Research and Practice in Local Communities

Racial Wealth Divide: Lowell Ricketts, Faith Weekly, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis
Seizing the Opportunity for Equitable and Inclusive Redevelopment: Kevin Dancy, Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas
Diverse Practices for Community Development Corporations: Jeanne Milliken Bonds, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond
Racial Equity and the SPARCC Initiative: Naomi Cytron, Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco