

THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF RICHMOND

RICHMOND ■ BALTIMORE ■ CHARLOTTE

Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond

Regional Economics Workshop 2014

Agenda

October 24, 2014

- 8:45 a.m. Breakfast
- 9:15 a.m. Welcome and Introductions
- Andy Bauer, Senior Regional Economist, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond
  - Kartik Athreya, Group Vice President, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond
- 9:30 a.m. Amanda Ross
Assistant Professor of Economics, West Virginia University
Paper: Do Capital Tax Incentives Attract New Businesses?
- 10:15 a.m. Break
- 10:30 a.m. Paul Carrillo
Associate Professor of Economics and International Affairs, George Washington University
Paper: Counterfactual Spatial Distributions
- 11:15 a.m. Fan-chin Kung
Assistant Professor of Economics, East Carolina University
Paper: TBA
- 12:00 p.m. Lunch
- 12:30 p.m. Keynote Speaker: Mark Partridge
William Swank Chair of Rural-Urban Policy and Professor in the Agricultural, Environment, and Development Economics Department, The Ohio State University
Topic: International Trade and Local Labor Markets: Do Foreign and Domestic Shocks Affect Regions Differently?
- 1:30 p.m. William Doerner
Economist, Federal Housing Finance Agency
Paper: How Low Can House Prices Go? Estimating a Conservative Lower Bound
- 2:15 p.m. Break
- 2:30 p.m. Scott Wentland
Assistant Professor of Economics, Longwood University
Paper: Capitalization of Property Tax Relief in Home Prices: Evidence from Virginia Elections
- 3:15 p.m. Kyle Hood
Economics, Bureau of Economic Analysis
Paper: Disaster Expectations, Home Maintenance, and the Effects of Hurricanes on Local Labor Markets
- 4:00 p.m. Adjourn